Sample Document

Introduction

This is a sample document created to demonstrate PDF functionality in the MCP server.

Features

• PDF text extraction

• Document search capabilities

• AI-powered summarization

• Document analysis

Technical Implementation

The MCP server uses the pdf-parse library to extract text content from PDF documents.

This allows for seamless integration with AI-powered tools for document analysis, summarization, and search functionality.

Conclusion

This document serves as a test case for the PDF processing capabilities of the MCP server.
